IMMENSE THROG.

Seventy Thousand People Witnessed Coronation of Pope Pius X in St. Peter's.

TRIPLE CROWN ON HIS HEAD.

Choir Intoned a Hymn of Triumph and the Bells of Rome Rang Out a Joyous Peal.

It is 57 Years Since the Romans and Europe Assisted in Such a Function—Roman Nobles and Diplomats Were Present.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The ceremony of the coronation of Pope Pius X. took place Sunday in the basilica of St. Peter's in the presence of the princes and high dignitaries of the church, diplomats and Roman nobles, and with all the solemnity and splendor associated with this, the most magnificent rite in the Roman Catholic church. As Cardinal Macchi, the dean of the cardinal deacons, placed the triple crown on the head of the venerable pontiff, the throng of 70,000 persons gathered within the cathedral burst into unrestrained acclamations, the choir intoned a hymn of triumph and the bells of Rome rang out a joyful peal.

It is 57 years since the Romans and Europe assisted in such a function as was held in St. Peter's Sunday.

The great basilica, popularly supposed never to have been quite full, was overflowing with humanity. The papal throne, a bewildering mixture of gold, red and silver, was erected in front of the high altar. As, contrary to custom, on these ceremonious occasions, there were no galleries, the basilica bore more of its normal aspect. On the altar, which was dressed in white, stood the famous silver gilt candelsticks and a magnificent crucifix. All the available standing space within the cathedral was divided into sections by wooden barriers, which to a certain extent kept the vast crowd in order.

The Papal Procession.

Inside the vatican palace there was movement and bustle as the papal procession, composed of about 500 persons, all of whom had gathered early in the apostolic palace, was formed. As the procession moved through the magnificent halls and corridors of the vatican it recalled former days when all was color and picturesqueness within the palace. The central figure in the long procession was Pius X. His heavy white robes and the red and mitre worn without an effort, making a vivid contrast to those memorable occasions on which Pope Leo XIII. wore them, for Leo seemed always unable to support their weight.

Another figure which evoked murmurs of admiration and craning of necks was the chaplain in his crimson cape, proudly bearing the cushion on which reposed the famous triple crown so soon to rest on the head of Pius. He was accompanied by the pontifical jeweler and by a special guard composed of Swiss and was followed by the choir of the Sistine chapel, which sang as it went along. Plus, in the portico of the basilica, seated himself on a throne erected directly before the holy door and with seats around for the members of the sacred college, the chapter of St. Peter's and the papal court.

THE PONTIFF ENTERS.

He Was Received By the Audience With Great Acclamations.

The low ceiling sent back an exquisite echo of the "Tues Petrus" sung by the Sistine choir, whose voices were heard outside in the piazzas of St. Peter's. Cardinal Rampolla advanced with dignity, knelt and kissed the foot of the pontiff. He then presented in a firm voice the wishes and greetings of the chapter of St. Peter's, which he said, "I offer an act of obedience to your holiness and wish you a prosperous and glorious pontificate." The procession re-formed and proceeded to the door of the basilica. On the appearance of the pontiff himself it seemed as though the people would seek to carry him in their arms, so great was their enthusiasm. Cries of "Plus, our pope, our father," and "Long live Pius X." were raised notwithstanding the large placards posted all over the basilica saying, "Acclamations are forbidden."

A quaint ceremony was then carried out. The master of the ceremonies knelt three times before the pontiff, each time lighting a handful of hemp which surmounted a silver torch, and as the flame flashed and then died out he chanted, "Holy Father, thus passeth away the glory of the world."

The procession then proceeded. At the chapel of the sacrament there was another halt, and his holiness left the Sedan chair and prayed at the altar.

On re-entering the chair he was carried to the chapel at St. Gregory, where he officiated at a mass. The pope was then borne to the throne amid renewed acclamations.

Pontiff Seated on the Throne.

The central figure was the venerable pontiff seated on the throne. Two lines of cardinals clad in silver and scarlet reached to the high altar with its burden of burning candles and sacred vessels, while around stood the papal guards, the pontifical court, monks and officials.

From the throne Pius X., surrounded by his suite, walked to the high altar, standing over the crypt of St. Peter, into which meanwhile Cardinal Macchi descended to pray. The appearance of the pope in that elevated position called forth another burst of enthusiasm. The pope then blessed the altar, and after saying the "Indulgentiam" the maniple, a symbol of the cord with which Christ was bound on his capture was placed, with great ceremony, upon the pope's arm. At the same time prayers for the coronation were recited by four cardinals. Returning from the crypt, Cardinal Macchi placed upon the shoulders of the pope the pontifical pallium and attached it with three golden jeweled pins, saying:

"Receive this sacred pallium as a symbol of the fullness of the pontifical office, in honor of Almighty God, the most glorious Virgin Mary, his mother, the Blessed Apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul, and the Holy Roman Catholic Church."

Mass was then celebrated with great pomp and ceremony. Following this, Cardinal Macchi performed the rite of incensing the pope, whom he subsequently kissed three times on the cheeks and chest, as did Cardinals Segna and Vannutelli.

KISSED HIS HANDS AND FEET.

Cardinals Offer Their Last Obedience to the Pontiff.

On the pope's return to the throne the cardinals offered their last obedience to the pontiff, kissing his hands and feet, and receiving embrace by him twice in turn. The bishops and archbishops kissed his foot and right knee, while the abbots kissed only his foot. The holy father then walked to the shrine of St. Peter for the culminating rites of the extremely fatiguing ceremony.

The whole sacred college gathered about the pope, singing Palestrina's "Corona Aurea Super Caput Ejus," while the whole choir burst forth into song. Cardinal Macchi then recited the "Pater Noster" and offered a prayer.

"Amen" rang out from all corners of the cathedral, from the choir, the people, the clergy and the participants.

Cardinal Deacon Segna then raised the pontiff's mitre, and Senior Cardinal Deacon Macchi placed on the white head the triple crown. At this moment the church was filled with the ringing of bells, the blowing of silver trumpets, the triumphant strains of the choir and the acclamations of the multitude which could no longer be repressed.

When comparative silence had been restored Cardinal Macchi addressed the pope in Latin as follows:

"Receive the tiara ornamented with three crowns. Remember thou art the father of princes and kings, the rector of the world, the vicar on earth of our Saviour, Jesus Christ, who is the honor and glory of all centuries." "Amen" again burst forth from the concourse.

Pope Pius was almost overcome and had scarcely strength left to impart the apostolic benediction. Cardinals Macchi and Segna granted a plenary indulgence to all present, and the procession then re-formed and left the basilica in the same form as it came.

HAVE NEW EVIDENCE.

State Introduces New Witness in the Caleb Powers Trial.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 10.—The feature of Saturday's developments in the trial of Caleb Powers was the introduction Saturday afternoon by the prosecution of one of its star witnesses, Frank Cecil, who is under indictment for the same offense for which Powers is being tried. This is the first appearance of Cecil as a witness in the Powers case.

Cecil's testimony is for the purpose of showing the existence of a conspiracy in bringing mountain men to Frankfort, and to the effect that Powers was responsible for that movement and along with Cecil, Charles Finley and Hamp Howard was a captain of this armed body. That they were a drunken, rowdy set whose expenses were paid by Powers, singing on the train as they came, "We're going to Frankfort to kill Goebel."

The commonwealth gave the witness over to the defense, which elected to await until Monday for cross-examination, and court adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday morning.

WAS BITTEN AND DIED.

A Child Picked Up a Snake and Carried it to Mamma.

Harrdsburg, Ky., Aug. 10.—The 5-year-old boy of Frank Thompson, of Totham's Well, was bitten by a copperhead snake, and died shortly afterward.

The little fellow was playing in the yard with a kitten and ran across the snake. He picked it up, and with the kitten in one hand and the reptile in the other took it to the porch to show it to his mother.

When the gaze of the parent fell upon the awful situation the snake was fiercely striking the kitten, which was struggling to get loose. In a moment the child released both of its captives and the cat died almost as soon as it touched the ground. It was not until after the snake was killed that the discovery was made that the child too had been bitten.

The little fellow already showed the deadly effects of the poison. Every available remedy was applied, but failed to save the child's life.

BOY DRAGGED TO DEATH.

A Rope Around His Neck Accidentally Fastened to a Train.

Livingston, Ky., Aug. 10.—Charlie Dunaway, aged 9 years, was returning from a school at East Bernstadt, with a rope that he had been playing with tied around his neck. He boarded a passing train for a ride toward his home. When he jumped from the moving train the rope had become accidentally fastened to the car. The speed of the train was increasing and he fell and was dragged some distance before the train crew saw his peril. They applied the emergency brakes and stopped and released him. He received injuries from which he died.

THE PRESIDENT ON LYNCHING.

Gov. Durbin Commended For the Attitude Resumed Recently.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 10.—In a letter, the publication of which was authorized Sunday, President Roosevelt commends Gov. Durbin, of Indiana, for the attitude he assumed recently respecting lynching. The president also embraces the opportunity to express his own views in reference to lynching and mob violence, generally, pointing out that mob violence is merely one form of anarchy and that anarchy is the forerunner of tyranny. The president vigorously urges that the penalty for that crime which most frequently induces a resort to lynching shall be applied swiftly and surely, but by due process of the courts, so that it may be demonstrated "that the law is adequate to deal with crime by freeing it from every vestige of technicality and delay."

"All thoughtful men," says the president, "must feel the gravest alarm over the growth of lynching in this country, and especially over the peculiarly hideous form so often taken by mob violence when colored men are the victims—on which occasions the mob seems to lay most weight, not on the crime, but on the color of the criminal."

TROLLEY MEN'S STRIKE.

The One Began in Waterbury, Ct., 30 Weeks Ago Settled.

Waterbury, Ct., Aug. 10.—The strike of trolley men which began 30 weeks ago was settled Sunday afternoon, the Connecticut Electric and Lighting Co. agreeing to take back part of the strikers at once at the old wages, to give employment to the others as soon as practicable and to treat with a committee from the men regarding future grievances. The announcement of the settlement led to a general public demonstration of joy throughout the city and the excitement which prevailed was almost equal to that which led to the calling out of the state militia.

NINE VICTIMS DEAD

PORTION OF GRAND STAND FELL

Nearly Three Hundred Spectators Were More or Less Injured Many Being in the Hospitals.

The Club Officials Express Sympathy and Announce That the Immediate Games at the Grounds Will Be Postponed.

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—Five additional deaths occurred Sunday as the result of an accident Saturday at the Philadelphia National league baseball park, making a total of nine fatalities. Two hundred victims were treated at the various hospitals and it is believed that fully 100 more received attention at various drug stores in the vicinity of the baseball grounds. Of the injured still in the hospitals four are said to be in a critical condition.

The physicians and nurses at the several hospitals to which the injured were conveyed worked unceasingly throughout Saturday night, securing no rest and taking but little nourishment. Coroner Dugan Sunday began an investigation into the causes of the accident. No date has been set for the inquests, but the coroner said they would be held within ten days.

"The investigation will be thorough and rigid," said Coroner Dugan. "If there has been any criminal negligence, the responsible persons will be held accountable."

The coroner and police officials decided Sunday to permit the playing of scheduled games. The left field "bleachers" will be roped off and the spectators will be allowed to occupy only the seats in the right field and the grand stand. Thousands of people Sunday visited the baseball park and the hospitals were thronged with friends and relatives of the injured.

President Potter, of the Philadelphia baseball club, who has been out of the city, arrived Sunday night, accompanied by President Pulliam, of the National league.

Shortly after their arrival a statement was issued by the club officials expressing sympathy for the injured and for the families of the dead and announcing that immediate games would be postponed.

Two games were scheduled between Boston and Philadelphia Saturday afternoon, and the attraction drew over 10,000 persons to the ball park. The accident occurred during the fourth inning of the second game, and was indirectly due to a quarrel between drunken men in the street. The National league stands are built of steel and brick, the brick wall extending entirely around the grounds. At the top of the left field seats and extending from the grand stand to the end of the bleachers there was a walk about three feet wide, which overhung the street. It was this walk that gave way under the heavy weight.

Men who were standing on the walk were attracted by a disturbance in the street. They leaned over the side of the railing to see what was the trouble, and this drew the attention of other spectators, who rushed to the walk to see what was going on below. There were 3,000 persons sitting in the left field bleachers and the roar made by the falling timber caused a panic.

The spectators made a rush down the stand and into the field. Men and boys climbed over one another in an effort to escape, and several persons were hurt in the crush. Outside the grounds for an entire block on Fifteenth street, from Huntington street to Lehigh avenue, men and boys were writhing in pain. Some were buried under the wreckage, others were lying in the gutters and dozens were stretched out on Fifteenth street on the car tracks. The 10,000 persons within the grounds left the place and crowded about the injured. Ambulances, wrecking wagons and street cars soon carried the injured home or to hospitals. The street was spotted with blood and looked like a field of battle.

It was brought out in some affidavits filed by the Commonwealth in the Powers trial at Georgetown Friday that Thomas O. Whaley, of Bourbon County, had endeavored to have himself ennobled as a juror; that he was passed by, because of that reason; that when he failed to get on the venire he openly denounced the court's officers on the streets of Paris, and then went to Georgetown with the venire and sat with Powers and his lawyers, and advised them in the selection of the jury. If Powers could only get twelve jurors like Whaley, he would soon be free.

UNDER present conditions the cotton mills that make the least cloth make the most money. Two Lowell mills happened to have on hand when the corner began about fifty thousand bales, which cost them 8½ cents. They have sold it to the pool at 12½ cents. This would be interesting enough if it were the end of the story, but it isn't; the buyer offered to sell the cotton back to the mills at 11½ cents, if they would spin and manufacture it; that is, if they would take it off the market, and the mills declined the proposition. The price of cloth did not make it a tempting one. Of course, this is utterly abnormal, and the question is how long such a situation can continue.

BURDENS ARE MANY.

Maysville Citizens Have Their Share.

Most backache pains come from sick kidneys.

Must cure the kidneys to cure the back.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do it.

Lots of Maysville proof that this is so. Read what a citizen says.

Mrs. O. D. Burgoyne, of Hall street, says: "The use of Doan's Kidney Pills proved of remarkable value to me. For a long time I suffered from kidney trouble. Not only were there severe pains in my back, but also other evidences of a disturbed condition of the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills came to our knowledge and Mr. Burgoyne went to J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, corner of West Second and Market streets and got a box. The treatment was so effective that it has given me much pleasure to recommend this remedy to a number of my friends."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no substitute.

The Gretna Green tells this one on an Aberdeen youth. The young man the other evening when, on leaving, the conversation turned to art, the young lady said he reminded her of the "Venus de Milo." He was delighted, thinking surely she meant his symmetrical form. When he got home he consulted an encyclopedia and found the "Venus de Milo" had no arms. Then he went down in the cellar and butted his head against a soft cabbage, to think that he had been such a fool.

The steamer Golden Gate came in Sunday evening with a party of pleasure seekers from Covington—the "V. S. V." society. They spent the night here.

The Bee Hive!

A Great Sale---Prices Wrecked---Many Rescues.

There was great excitement at the Bee Hive on Friday, July 31st, when our Third Annual Clearance Sale was inaugurated. There was greater excitement on Saturday, August 1st, and still greater excitement on Monday, August 3d, and greater and greater excitement as each day of this sale sailed on; but the greatest excitement is yet to come. Keep your eyes opened wide and watch this space daily. A woman with one eye can see more bargains at this store than a woman with two eyes looking elsewhere. Every counter you stand by, every aisle you walk through, shows you good, seasonable goods at wrecked prices. We believe we came to your rescue in the right time. Those who cried, "We are unable to buy a new dress, are now walking around in Dame Fashion's newest creations. Your most liberal response was our greatest flattery of this sale. This sale is good for thin purses, and not bad for thick purses.

PISTOL AND ROCK

John Fee, colored, was shot and slightly wounded Sunday afternoon by "Jinks" Stockdale. The two had had some trouble previously and when they met near Oullen's harbor shop, Fee went after a rock and Stockdale pulled his gun. The rock went wide of its mark, but Stockdale's bullet perforated a deck of cards in Fee's hip pocket and inflicted a flesh wound. Fee fled and hid behind a pole on Second and Policeman Pollitt nabbed Stockdale while he was trying to get in another shot.

Acting Police Judge Coons released Stockdale on $250 bond until this afternoon, when the trial will come off.

Clitha Thomas, who was jailed a week or so ago on the charge of keeping a disreputable house, gave bail Saturday morning in sum of $200 and was discharged, her father, a man named Robb, going on her bond. The more serious charge of procuring girls for immoral purposes is pending against her, and the authorities should see that it is fully investigated.

Mr. N. Gollenstein took the county's bloodhounds to Elizaville Saturday where they ran down three negroes who had broken into the home of a widow the night before, during the absence of the family, and stolen $10 in cash and several pieces of meat. The dogs trailed the negroes to the field where they were at work. After their arrest, one of them confessed.

The union service at the Christian Church last evening attracted an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium. Prof. Adams sang an inspiring sacred solo, "Hosanna." Rev. H. T. Musselman's sermon on "The Brotherhood of Man," was an able discourse,--a strong plea for closer fellowship of all Christians. The service next Sunday evening will be at the M. E. Church.

The Princess horns, mentioned in this paper a short time since, that so long adorned the Natchez whariboat, won by the celebrated steamer Princess in her race in the '50's and afterwards won by the Robert E. Lee, have recently been presented to Captain W. L. Cannon, of Midway, son of Captain John W. Cannon, formerly of Frankfort, who built and commanded the Lee. The horns were on the roof of the Natchez whariboat from 1856 to 1870. They have lately been on exhibition at Memphis, Louisville and other cities.

A FAITHFUL OFFICIAL.

Popular Superintendent of County Infirmary Passed Away Sunday Morning.

Mr. Edward J. Slattery Succumbs to a Complication of Diseases After an Illness of Two Weeks.

Mr. Edward J. Slattery, Superintendent of the Mason County Infirmary, died Sunday morning at 6:40 o'clock at the family residence at the infirmary.

Mr. Slattery was taken ill two weeks ago with the flux, and this was followed by frequent attacks of hiccoughs, lasting several days, leaving him in such a weakened condition he was unable to rally. He had lingered in a critical condition since the middle of last week.

During the smallpox epidemic last winter and spring, Mr. Slattery devoted himself untiringly and most unselfishly to the care and relief of the afflicted. He was ever ready to respond to a call for his help and assistance, no matter at what hour, night or day. For weeks he was kept busy removing the afflicted, destroying infected clothing, caring for the sick at the pest house and fumigating infected premises. He was a man of robust figure and had never been sick before in his life, and it is thought his fatal illness was brought on by his weeks of unselfish and devoted attention to the afflicted. His position did not require him to look after the sick of this city, yet he responded to every call made on him by the authorities of Maysville. And when it was all over he would not present any bill for his services. The City Council, however, by a unanimous vote, remunerated him, in a measure, for his work.

Mr. Slattery was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Slattery. He was born near Fern Leaf, and was forty years of age last June. His wife, who was Miss Mollie Osborne, survives him, and he leaves one daughter.

Mr. Slattery had been Superintendent of the County Infirmary for eight years, having been unanimously elected to the position seven times in succession. He was one of the county's most popular officials, a man whose many acts of kindness and his unselfish devotion to duty commanded the love and respect of all.

The funeral will take place Tuesday at 9 a. m. at St. Patrick's Church, the interment following in the cemetery at Washington.

THE MARKETS.

Review of Trade in Live Stock and Tobacco at Cincinnati the Past Week.

Cattle—There has been a good demand for best shipping cattle at strong prices, sales being made 10¢ to 25¢ higher than a week ago. Butcher steers, at $2.75 to $4.65, however, are 10¢ to 25¢ lower than a week ago, while heifers and butcher cows average about the same in 10¢ higher for the week. Bulls were not materially changed, and are in fair demand, with light offerings. At present good fat butcher stock is steady to firm under a good demand and moderate supply. Milch cows are slow sale.

Hogs—Hogs have been fairly active, but at lower prices, under rather liberal receipts, the bulk of the butcher and packer grades selling at $3.40 to $5.50, against $5.60 to $5.75 a week ago. Light weights at $3.75 to $5 are only 5¢ lower. There is a good demand for light shipping hogs.

Sheep—Sheep have been weak and dull all week and sales mostly at $2.75 to $3.25 are 25¢ to 50¢ lower than a week ago. Lambs at $4.50 to $5.00 average about 10¢ lower for the best and 50¢ for common grades, there being a good demand and light supply of extra fat lambs, and the market is steady to firm at present prices.

Tobacco—The close of the week finds the excellent price standards and higher range in values established previous week well maintained in all types, except possibly the finer grades above 11c, which displayed an easier feeling on Thursday and Friday.

Offerings and receipts showed an increase of nearly 25¢ per cent. each, as compared with last week, while the average selling price on the total sales was $8.93 per 100 pounds, or 16¢ higher than last week.

The pleasing feature of the market was the unusually large proportion of the better grades, out of the total offerings of 1,615 bbls. nearly one-third selling above 10c. Twenty-five of these were fancy leaf and selections that sold from 15¢ to 25¢, the latter being the highest figure of the year in this or any other market for tobacco in the crop of 1902.

Mr. and Mrs. Little and children, of East Second street, are all ill with typhoid fever. Mrs. Little was formerly Miss Hise, a daughter of the late Philip Hise.
